

INFORMATION GUIDE

for Organisations Working with Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD) Communities during the Covid-19 Pandemic in the City of Casey

2021

Proudly Supported by the City of Casey

*Produced by Casey North Community Information and Support Service &
Community Information and Support Cranbourne*

Prelude

This information guide has been compiled to assist the people from multicultural backgrounds who live in the City of Casey and have been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic.

The guide is a joint initiative of Casey North Community Information and Support Service and Community Information and Support Cranbourne as part of the CALD Communities Taskforce Local Partnerships project funded by the City of Casey to support a sustained and effective response to COVID-19 recovery amongst CALD communities.

In February 2021, The Age published an article that stated that around half of the more than 20,000 people infected with coronavirus in 2020 were born outside of Australia. This also highlights the vulnerabilities of the communities from migrant and CALD backgrounds in accessing support services. We identified the need for having a handy information guide focusing on the CALD communities that will help the workers and service providers to access the most up to date information possible about free or low-cost services available to them. Every effort has been made to make sure that information contained in it is up to date.

This guide will be made available on the websites of both CISSs. Please see the additional two resources that are helpful to access the information about the support services.

- 1) Making Ends Meet 2021, the information and resources guide aimed to people living in the City of Casey but particularly for those households with low income.
- 2) South East Refugee and Asylum Seeker Directory 2021 developed by Monash Health includes information about support services available for people with refugee and asylum seeker backgrounds in the South East as well as COVID-19 financial supports.

We have also added links for resources to assist the Afghan communities after the recent crisis in Afghanistan on page 24.

I would like to thank Susan Magee, Executive Officer, Casey North Community Information and Support Service and Leanne Petrides, Executive Officer, Community Information and Support Cranbourne heartily for conceptualising this initiative and providing guidance and support throughout the preparation of the guide. A special thank you to my colleague Arfa Khan, Case Manager, Pradeep Peteti, Social Inclusion Officer, City of Casey, Rob Koch, Coordinator of Community Development, Monash Health Refugee Health and Wellbeing and all colleagues, volunteers and stakeholders who provided me direct, or indirect support to bring this guide into fruition.
